Around the State.....

The Caribbean National Weekly honored Pastor Reggie Smith, D. Min., lead pastor of Church of God of West Broward, as a true hero in an article in the community section of the paper. The article states "As pastoral leaders, both Pastor Reggie Smith and his wife Rev. Carol, have served faithfully as a team and have managed the challenges of their pastoral incumbency with faithfulness and loyalty. Through their ministry they have provided spiritual and educational guidance for the youth of the community, many of whom have distinguished themselves academically and professionally by attending some of Florida's and the nation's finest universities. The Smiths and their congregation have developed a large caring heart for the community and have spearheaded several community projects."

The article continues "It is Pastor Reggie's hope and prayer that the church which he and his wife established and nurtured will continue to have a positive impact on the families, children and youth in the community. As he retires, Pastor Reggie is confident that the programs have been established that the community can take advantage of to retain their Christian faith, and to achieve academic and professional goals."
