

Twas The Week Before Christmas

By Dr. Gregory Wiens

Twas the week before Christmas
And all through the state
All the shoppers were scurrying
Buying presents for friends, kin and mates.

Every pastor was anxious
If anyone would come
To their Christmas Eve service
And whether they'd have fun.

The treasurer of each church
Prayed for some cash
To balance the budget
And not do something rash.

The kids were the ones
Who knew why we're here
Their smiles and joy
Show it this time of year.

Born as a baby
Jesus came to a stable
God chose to save us
To make all of us able.

As I think of the pastors
In churches all around
In small, mid and big ones
My joy does abound.

My staff and I
Urge you to relax and restore
We pray for God's blessing
To be abundant and more.

Can you finish this for me? I couldn't think of an appropriate finishing stanza...next week we will feature the winner...send your suggestion to Alex@flcog.org
